The National Football League's (NFL) Pro Football Hall of Fame class of 2020 was announced Thursday night at the enshrinement ceremony in Canton, Ohio. The class includes 16 former players and one coach who served as members of the NFL for a total of 75 years. These 10 well-deserving men will be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Aug. 1, the third day of the NFL's enshrinement weekend. NFL commissioner Roger Goodell, NFL executive vice president of football operations Troy Vincent, NFL senior vice president of football communications Michael Signora and Hall of Famers Joe Montana, Bart Starr, Charles Haley, Cris Carter, Bruce Matthews, Andre Reed and Paul Warfield were part of the announcements. "Our Hall of Fame class of 2020 honors athletes who set the standard for those who have come since, and the players who will come after them. They are truly deserving of our induction into Canton's shrine to great individuals who have played the game with honor and integrity," Goodell said. Carter, who was inducted in 2017, returned to the podium to give the induction speech. "We were all blessed to be part of something
