

---

Well, I tried to use:../pdfk/xpdf-win32-Sversion_number-win32-Sarchitecture-component.zip\pdfk co -lpvj>>foo.pdf But get an empty result. Without "T" pdfk co - just asks for a password and prints nothing. A: There's a bug in PDFk. From the PDFk FAQ: Q: Can I use pdfk with parameters? A: No. You can create a temporary command line like "xpdf filename" or "filexpdf filename" and then pipe through pdfk. I'm not sure if it's the pdfk bug that's creating your problems, or the fact that you are using temporary commands. Elvis sightings in February It was a very active month for Elvis Presley the month of January, some of the key Elvis sightings were a triple threat that occurred at the Los Angeles International Airport with an airplane being struck by lightning to the tune of three strikes, a candle in a glass of champagne at the cinema of Loews Corp in Hollywood to the tune of four strikes, a mug of hot coffee at the Empire Room in New York to the tune of 11 strikes. It was the 14th day of February at the Los Angeles International Airport the first Elvis sighting that occurred there was in 1995. The first official Elvis sighting there was in 1997 when Bob Hope was photographed. Bob Hope was at the airport at the time and it is said to have been Hope's mission to pick up or meet Shirley MacLaine who was in Los Angeles at the time. Bob Hope picked up Shirley MacLaine and then went to pick up his next mission. However the first official Elvis sighting there happened on the 14th of February 1997. The report of the visit was by a Jack Vitale a professional pilot. Jack Vitale and his family were looking for their next destination and chose Los Angeles International Airport because their next destination was the Palm Springs area. The Prestons were greeted by an Elvis look-alike driving an old Cadillac. The pilot knew it was Elvis because of a tip off he had received. The second Elvis sighting there was by several people on the 20th of February. They could not see him but they could see the Black Caddy parked outside the Delta building in LAX. The third official Elvis sighting

